

VERMICOMPOSTING IN ALASKA

A scenic landscape of snow-capped mountains and a glacier reflected in a calm lake with icebergs. The mountains are covered in snow and patches of green vegetation. The glacier is a large, white mass of ice flowing down the mountain. The lake is calm, reflecting the mountains and glacier. Several icebergs are floating in the water, with their reflections visible in the water.

Petersburg Indian Association and
Petersburg School District

The Goals

OUTPUTS

283 pounds of compost created, nearly 500 pounds removed from the waste stream

And.....

